Live life your way at Banksia

The community will feature sophisticated landscape design and road names inspired by native flora, as well as a shared walking path along the green spine of the community.

There is a proposed childcare centre planned for the community that new families can access with convenience and peace of mind, being close to home.

Everything you need is close by

With Geelong CBD only 10km away, you can experience the perfect blend of historical charm and modern city life, while living in the tranquil neighbourhood that is Banksia Armstrong Creek.

The easygoing vibe of Armstrong Creek and array of glorious beaches just down the Surf Coast Highway or Barwon Heads Road, will melt away any city stresses and turn every day into a holiday.

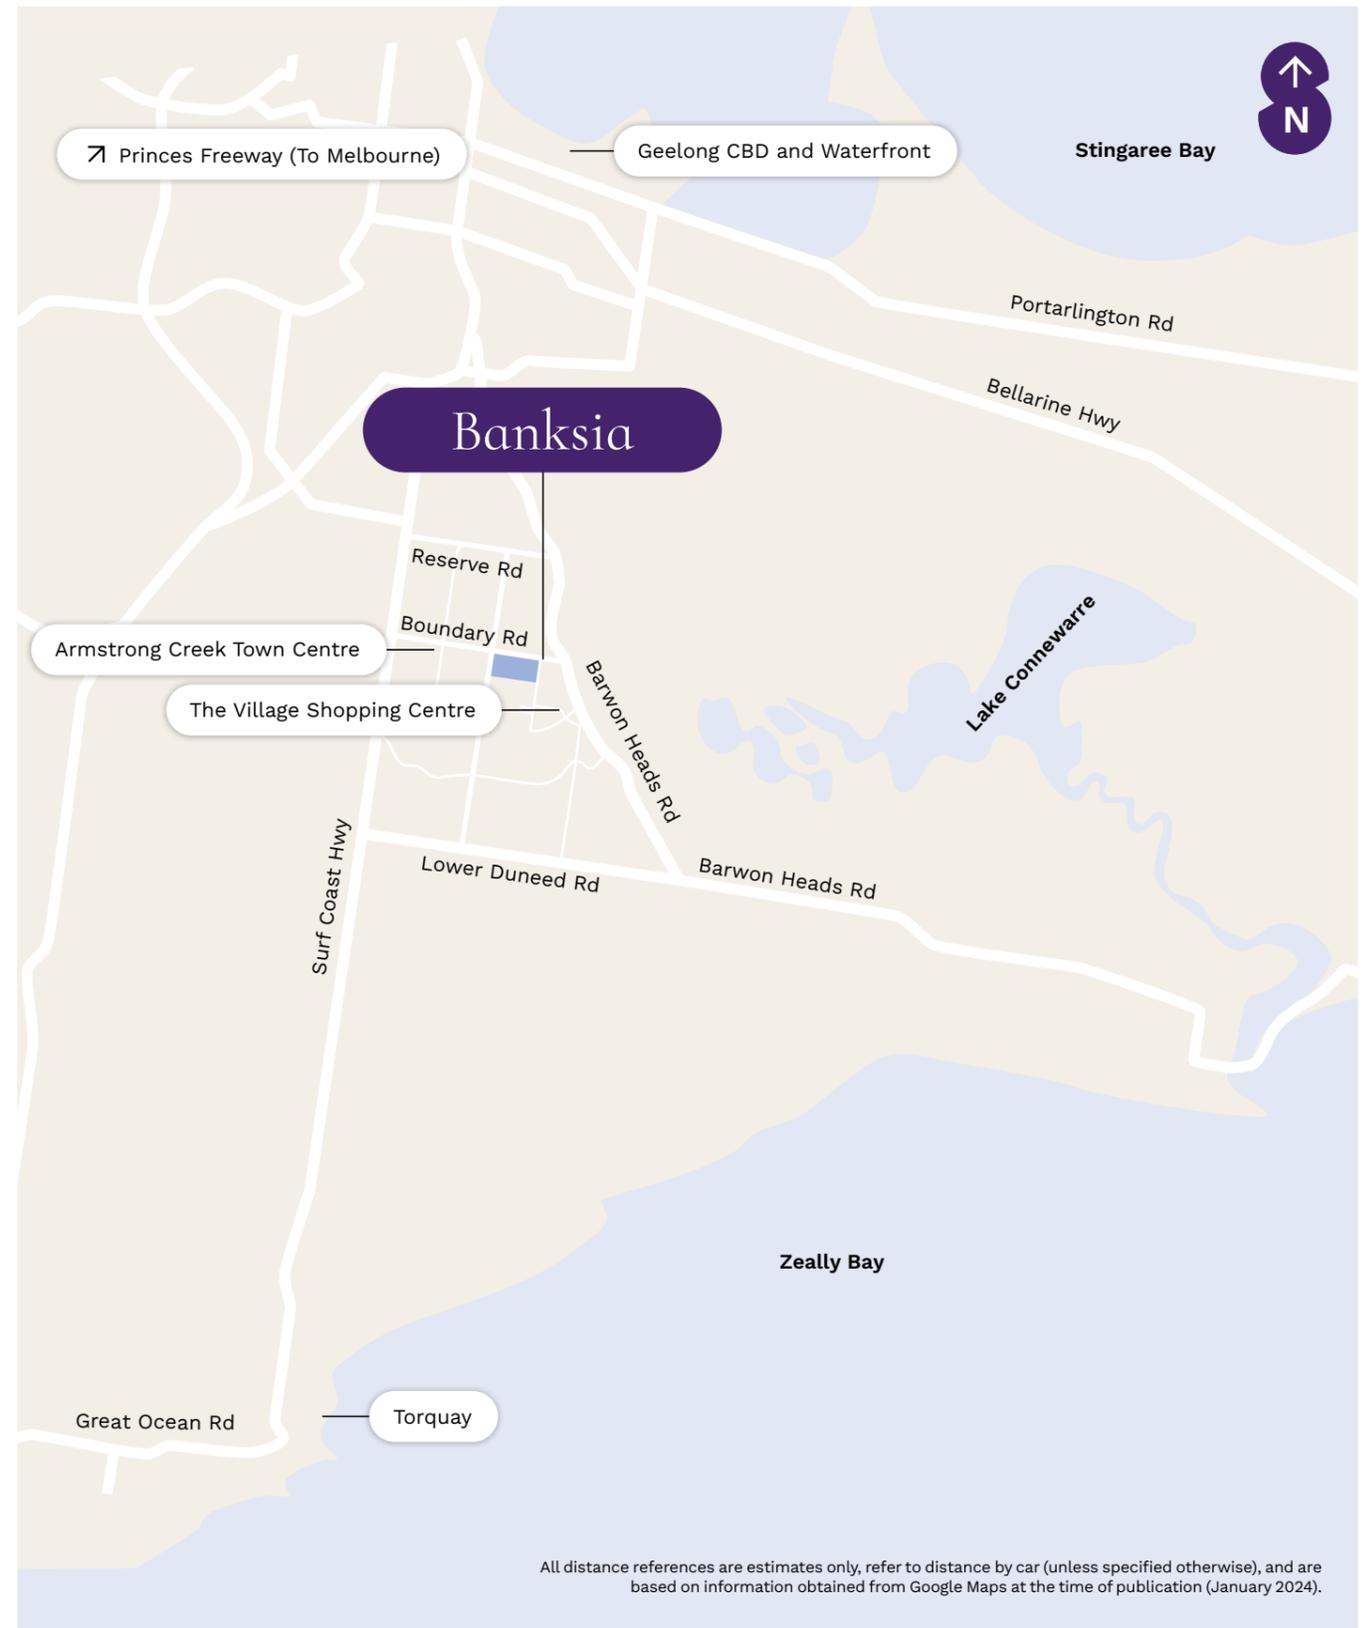

Closer to some of Australia's great destinations

Weekends will never be the same with so many iconic beach towns to explore along the Bellarine Peninsula, Surf Coast and Great Ocean Road areas. You can even enjoy a day trip across to the Mornington Peninsula on a short 45-minute ferry ride from Queenscliff.

Pockets of culture

If you're feeling like taking a break from the surf, there are plenty of options in the area. Wineries, nature trails, cool cafés and restaurants, the award-winning Geelong waterfront and, of course, a fortnightly dose of footy at the home of the Cats, are all at your doorstep.

Simplifying the buying process

Buying a block of land and building your dream home is a very exciting time. With so many things to consider, it can also be a little daunting at the same time, so we've broken down the steps, to help you navigate this new journey.

Before you buy

Engaging a mortgage broker or bank is the first step to understanding your borrowing capacity and financial position, so you know what size lot and house type you can choose from.

You'll need to do some thorough research at this stage to understand your financial circumstances and the steps involved throughout the buying and building processes.

Securing your block of land

Once you're ready to buy, you will need to register your interest with the Banksia Sales Team. They will notify you via email when the next land release is available and help you throughout the whole process.

When participating in a Stockland online land release, (if you are successful) you'll need to put down a 10% deposit to secure your desired lot, have a conveyancer review the Contract of Sale and then sign the finalised Contract.

You'll then need to finalise and sign all of your mortgage documents prior to Settlement of your land purchase. Once this is complete, the purchase is registered with the Land Titles Office, and the land is yours.

Choosing a builder

We recommend choosing a builder before your land settles so that you are ready to start building. Otherwise you may have to wait quite a while before you can start construction of your new home.

Stockland proudly partners with Victoria's best builders to support you in your home-building journey. Once you've selected your builder, you'll need to share the Banksia Design Guidelines with them to ensure your home is compliant.
